

TARIFF PICTURES.

In 1890, the fiscal year before the McKinley law took effect, our trade with Canada showed a balance in our favor of $13,248,000.

In 1893 the favorable balance amounted to $37,645,000.

Under the new Tariff we sell more to our Northern neighbors and at the same time are buying less from them.

There is a lesson for the Mugwump in the unanimity with which the British public uphold the British side of the Bering Sea controversy. There are no Mugwumps in Great Britain.

Everybody with Cuba has increased our exports in eighteen months to $22,700,000, at a cost only $180,650 in the preceding year and a half. Of course an arrangement so manifestly advantageous to American citizens earns for itself Mugwump and Democratic hatred.

The most gifted of the millennium prophets of London has figured it out that the world is to come to an end on the 5th of March, 1896, without fail. People who have noted maturing on the 6th of March, 1896, will read the announcement with a good deal of compunction.

Lexington Leader.—Two years ago in Wolfe county two young men, twins, and both red-headed, married two young ladies, also twins with red hair. Last week each of the ladies presented her husband red-headed twins, and there is no telling where this red-headed business will stop.

Judge Luton, whom Mr. Cleveland has just transferred from the Supreme Court bench of Tennessee to the United States Circuit Court, in place of Judge Jackson, was a Confederate soldier and was taken prisoner once by Grant at Fort Donelson and again when he joined Morgan's raiders and came up into Ohio.

GROWTH OF POVERTY.

New York Press.—An infallible sign of the growth of poverty in Great Britain appears in the fall in the amount of capital subscribed for new enterprises from £142,500,000 in 1890 to £104,544,910 in 1891 and to £81,157,177 in 1892. The British people have all they can do to make both ends meet now without making investments of any kind.

Short sighted dogs and horses are one of the latest discoveries of science. The story goes that these animals now have grown to such proportions as to add to their relief. It is a fact that the short-sightedness of horses frequently causes them to shy at objects they cannot see distinctly. But, on the whole, why should horses and dogs have defective sight? Nobody has been making them study books six hours a day.

After collecting and sifting the evidence furnished by our foreign Consuls in regard to experiments in plant growing abroad by electricity the United States State Department finds that the question is not decided. The evidence is not full enough, and what there is is conflicting. Here is a useful field for some of our millionaire gardeners for pleasure. They could undertake the growing of plants by electricity and show the trade gardeners whether it would make fruits, vegetables and flowers grow faster and more vigorously to have an electric light shining upon them of night.

The piano which will be placed in the State Building at the World's Fair is one of the most magnificent instruments ever manufactured in this country. It is made of oak taken from the farm upon which Abraham Lincoln was born, and polished until the beautiful grain of the wood is shown to the utmost advantage. The front is decorated with three panels, which were designed by one of the leading artists of the state. The central panel is one of oak leaves and acorns tied with loose knots of ribbon, and surrounded by a pattern of antique musical instruments. The back panel is of the same wood and are the opening bars of "My Old Kentucky Home." The side panels will be ornamented with busts of Lincoln and Mrs. Lincoln, made of solid silver and raised above the surface of the wood. The design given by the artist is both beautiful and artistic, and in order that he may have all due credit for his work the donor of the instrument has had his name written in silver letters immediately under the central panel.

Franklin County's Grand Jury did a good bit of work the last term of court, which has just closed. An unusually large number of indictments were found.

Greatly improved on taking the new family washing machine into a large sink about eighteen inches in diameter and the same in height. Into this her nineteen-month-old baby crawled and was drawn before discovered.

If it be true that it costs the state but $200 to run the penitentiary, with 1,000 inmates, why should it cost $1,000 a day to run the Legislature, with but 100 members, and only thirty-eight in attendance? asks the Louisville Times.

Funeral Obsequies of Hon. William B. Wadsworth—A Fitting Eulogy by the Rev. Dr. John S. Hay—Distinguished Pastors in America.

One of the hills passed by the Populist train of South Carolina was a measure of providing that the state should take charge of the labor traffic. The state is to buy the labor traffic, and the people will be free to the people. Governor Tillman is now in Louisville buying some of the Kentucky artificers. It is to be supposed he will follow the old stage in regard to the Governor of North Carolina.

It cannot be doubted that there are many Democrats who are as thoroughly American as Republicans; nor can it be denied that the Democratic party, particularly in the large cities, is made up, chiefly of foreigners who control it.

It is a Democratic paper in New York makes comment on this condition of affairs:

It seems as if the next division of political parties in this country were almost sure to be on lines like these: On the one side the party of vigorous, aggressive, progressive Americanism; on the other, the party of reaction, of foreign sympathies and alien ideas.

There will be no future division of parties on these lines, says The New York Post. The division already exists. The difference between the two great parties in this respect is fundamental. It cannot be overlooked or ignored. The party of foreign sympathies and un-American principles is the party which attempted to wreck the Nation in the defense of the alien institution of human slavery, which is specifically pledged to destroy the industrial independence of the United States, and which has obstructed the annexation of the Hawaiian outpost, while addition to the territory of the United States is demanded by every consideration of patriotism and self-defense.

The party of aggressive and progressive Americanism is the party that rebuilt the Nation shattered by Democratic rebellion; that vindicated the truth of the Declaration of Independence by freeing the slave; that drove Louis Napoleon out of Mexico and secured reparation from Great Britain for depredations upon the United States; that built up its ports and manured by her seamen; that is pledged to make the United States an independent in industry as it is in politics; that has created the new Navy, steadfastly maintained American rights in Bering Sea, in Samoa, in Chili, and opened the door of the American Republic to the people of Hawaii.

The Republican party proposes to make the United States the dominant power of the Western Hemisphere, the guardian of its liberties, the leader of its civilization, the chief center of its commerce. The Democracy would substitute the products of Manchester and Birmingham for the products of New York, New England and Pennsylvania on both American continents. It would abandon Latin America to European influence hostile to the United States. Judged by the practically unanimous utterances of its organs in the Chilian controversy, it would allow outrages against American citizens and the American flag, no matter how gross, to go unpunished. It stood ready to throw the key of North Pacific into the hands of Great Britain rather than allow Hawaii to be annexed by a Republican Administration.

There can be no doubt as to the party that represents American principles and progress. The American party is the Republican party. The "foreign sympathies and alien ideas" are the sympathies and ideas of Democracy.

ANNEXATION.

Prominent Canadians Want It for the Best Reasons.

They Have Privately Expressed Themselves to That Effect,

But in Public They Express the Opposite View—They Don't Want to Be Annexed of Disunity—If Left to a Vote, Annexation Would No Doubt Carry.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Wm. McGeevy, of the Canadian Parliament, and Mr. J. J. Mitchell, Hector MacKenzie, Wm. Walnigh and Mr. Connolly, all prominent Canadians are at the Hoffman house.

Mr. Connolly, in an interview, said: "In Canada each province, as well as in the maritime provinces, there is undoubtedly a very strong sentiment in favor of the annexation of Canada by the United States, and it is increasing. Some of our most prominent men in the Canadian Parliament have privately expressed themselves to that effect; but in public they express opposite views. They don't want to be accused of disloyalty."

"But the facts are that on the American side of the St. Lawrence River, the three provinces, while on the Canadian side you see general depression and lack of thrift. The conclusion is obvious. If the question should be referred by a vote of the people, I think two-thirds of the people would be in favor of it. I am doing my best to secure union. The United States will take the initiative by sending a commission to Canada. The administration of the dominion is not likely to discuss the question until it is compelled to do so."

A Call to Succeed Phillips Brooks.

BOSTON, April 6.—More than 1,000 of the Protestant clergymen of Boston and Springfield dioceses have met and practically decided in favor of Dr. Greer, of New York, as successor to Phillips Brooks for the bishop of Massachusetts. Dr. Greer is now pastor of St. Bartholomew's Church, New York, and before his election was the rector of the church home of the Vandals and Rhineleanders, the DePeysters, Chauncy Depew and other knickerbockers. Dr. Greer's present salary was about $15,000. That the Massachusetts church is little more than half built, Dr. Greer, if it seems to him call of duty, will not hesitate to go, his friends believe.

SIGH Some Hope For Ennis Boy.

BERLIN, April 6.—A dispatch from Kampala, Uganda, dated Dec. 14, 1892, reports that two apparently authentic sources had been reliable to the effect that Ennis Pasha, the celebrated explorer, was murdered by the fierce Mavymas on the banks of the Iru river in March, 1892. The receiver of the dispatch says that he does not think the reports wholly convincing as to the cause of death.

Death Rides the Test.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 6.—The Dartmouth rifle has received its test at the national armory and passed all the tests to which it was submitted with success. At the conclusion of the test, the entire company had to march for further trials until Friday to receive more ammunition from the Frankfort arsenal. Mr. H. D. Durst, the inventor of this gun, is an American by birth, and a student of Wheatland, Cal.

Paco Nominated by Acclamation.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 6.—At the joint demands of the Senate and the representatives of the Florida legislature, Samuel Paco was unanimously nominated for U. S. senator, to succeed Mr. John H. Durst, the inventor of the gun. Fully twenty speeches were made, probably in opposition to Paco. A committee was appointed to notify him of the nomination.

Added Murder to Another Crime.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 6.—United States Deputy Marshal John R. Upchurch found in the outskirts of Raleigh John Allen Johnson, wanted for the murder of his wife, and ordered to arrest him. Johnson shot Upchurch in the back just below the heart and shot promiscuously into the gathering crowd and made good his escape. Upchurch will die.

Diaper to Mrs. Collins.

BOSTON, April 6.—A diaper was tendered Gen. F. A. Collins, the newly appointed United States consul at London, by his personal friends irrespective of party, at the Vendome. Over one hundred were in attendance and the fact that the new consul's private Gen. Collins were enough to fill all man's heart with pride. Gov. Russell presented.

Mrs. Montagu Serves Her Term.

BURLINGTON, April 6.—Mrs. Anne Margaret Montagu, the widow of Robert Achille, the Englishman, who is known as the duke of Manchester, was released from prison Tuesday. Mrs. Montagu was convicted just a year ago Wednesday of manslaughter of her child, Mary Helen, aged three years. Mrs. Montagu had treated her children with great severity.

Express Charge.

PITTSBURGH, April 6.—The U. S. Express Co. superseded the American Express Co. on the New York and New England railroad. This gives the U. S. Express Co. an all-rail route to Boston, in connection with the Philadelphia and Reading, Jersey Central and Baltimore and Ohio and their connections west of Chicago.

Throws From a Train.

ALLIANCE, O., April 6.—Chas. Druson, 155 East Madison avenue, Cleveland, while attempting to steal a ride on a freight train, was thrown off by a switch. When he fell, he struck his head, and, falling on the tie, his skull was crushed. His recovery is doubtful.

Call for a State Tax Conference.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The national committee of the Single Tax League of the United States has called a national single tax conference to meet in Chicago, Aug. 20-22. This will be the second national conference of the believers in Henry George's theory.

ARBITRATION.

Phelps Comments Sharply on England's Action.

Her Supplementary Report as Injustices to the United States.

Sir Charles Russell's Argument to Holst: England's Case—The Rights of Man and Demand that Hearing Be Made Speedily to All.

PARIS, April 6.—The court of arbitration regarding Behring sea resumed its session Wednesday. Hon. E. J. Phelps, counsel for the United States, continued his argument. He contended that the British supplementary report was admissible. The admission of new evidence at this stage, Mr. Phelps said, was a gross injustice to the United States, which is deprived of the United States of any chance of advancing rebutting testimony. Mr. Phelps discoursed at some length on the technical meaning of the treaty of arbitration and the conditions and methods of procedure followed in drawing up the treaty.

Sir Charles Russell, in reply, told Phelps in behalf of Great Britain, paid a tribute to the late James G. Blaine, whose ability, he said, was recognized in both hemispheres.

Mr. Phelps' address was interrupted several times by an exchange of critical claims between the counsel for the two powers.

"If I have been guiding the policy of the United States," said Mr. Phelps, "wherever I have been present, the counter case at the last minute I would then and there have refused to proceed with the arbitration. Great Britain's conduct was not only unjust, but deeply humiliating for the United States."

Sir Richard Webster, interposed the remark that Great Britain had announced in her counter-case the production at a future date of the Behring sea commission's report.

Mr. Phelps, in continuing, said that he had not been aware of this. The report, he said, was of course very worthy, for although preliminary investigations had been made conjointly by the British and the American commissioners, the reports had been drawn separately, and the British report, therefore, had been neither answered nor commented upon by the United States.

The British report contained, moreover, a large amount of hearsay arguments, conjectures and other matters qualifying as evidence before the court.

Sir Charles Russell, in his reply, said that he had not expected such a discussion of the legal character of the evidence as that introduced by Mr. Phelps. He felt quite unprepared for this extra-ordinary question, and had relied on pooling counsels. He was extremely surprised that Great Britain should be charged with injustice in her conduct of the proceedings preliminary to the meeting of the court. There was no intent to injure the United States, he said, in the report of the Behring sea commission as bearing upon the question of right before the court. The counsel for the United States had attempted, throughout the sittings of the tribunal, to force the court to accept the British commissioners, as if only one question were before them. There were, however, other questions than those of right to be settled. The tribunal was dealing with the affairs of the sea, in which there were involved other rights than those of Great Britain and the United States, namely, the rights of mankind. In the matter of Great Britain's and America's rights, the arbitrators must act strictly as judges; in the matter of the rights of mankind, they must acquit themselves as just men.

Sir Charles Russell then justified the production of the report of the Behring sea commission, arguing from the terms of the arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain. "It is," he said, "the sole object of the report was to assist the tribunal to gain information as to the regulation of the seal fisheries and to increase its knowledge of the practical matters at issue, the report then must be admitted to evidence under the rules governing the procedure of the court of arbitration." Sir Charles Russell then read the article in question and the court adjourned. Upon its reassembling he will resume his argument.
